Leadership: since our inception in 1983, our attorneys have resolved nearly 30,000 of some of the most complex workers' compensation claims cases.

Strategy: focusing on our clients' interests, we promote and aggressively defend their goals whether in negotiation or in adversarial litigation.

Execution: we develop and execute creative administrative action plans, engage in cost-effective negotiations and present well-organized arguments to achieve the best possible outcomes.

Education: we continually share our time and experience as leaders and speakers in over 30 educational seminars and individualized training to clients, associations and the industry annually.

As statutes and administrative rules have evolved, so have our attorney's success before administrative law and appellate judges.
